"BETSY."

The disagreeable weather of last evening prevented as large an attendance at the play given by the Edmonton amateur dramatic association as its merits deserved. But those who were about certainly missed a treat. The play is laughable from start to finish and the numerous characters were presented in a style that would do no discredit to professional Mr. V. The politically alcoholic father and Miss Martin as the doting mother were perfection; the latter part it may be said although particularly difficult was particularly well done. Mr. Jackson played the petted son Dollie most naturally, and the servant Delay, whose plots against the peace of mind of Dollie gave movement to the piece, was represented by Miss Matheson most acceptably. Mr. Emery as Capt. McManus was the excitable Irishman to the life, and in his make up might easily have been taken for Major Stewart Mulvey of Winnipeg fame. Miss Segers as Mrs. McManus entered fully into her part and acquitted herself with every credit. But the bright particular star of the evening was Mr. de Journal who as the French tutor captured the house. His words were well spoken, but his actions were better and his looks best of all. He did not need to speak or act, his look was enough. Miss Roy as Madame Pointa, wife of the tutor, did exceptionally well, although she only took the part at three days' notice. Miss Robertson as Nellie Bassett, Dollie's fiancée, and Miss McLeod as Clara Peyton, her friend, took their respective parts well. Mr. Lee, Dollie's friend, Mr. Negroni as hairdresser, and Mr. Robertson, as a man-servant, were also very good. The play will be repeated to-night, and it is to be hoped will be liberally patronized, both on account of the merit of the actors and the object to be served. It is the intention of the association to put on other plays in the course of the summer. The Edmonton brass band was in attendance, kindly giving their services free, and added greatly to the enjoyment of the evening by their excellent music.

THE CONFERENCE.

Whatever may have been the intent in sending the commission on the school question from Ottawa to Winnipeg, the result has been good, in that it has defined the question at issue more clearly than ever before, and yet has shown that neither side is altogether as unreasonable as was at one time supposed. The offer of the Dominion commissioners, while it did demand the re-establishment of separate schools did not demand a return to the condition of educational affairs which existed in Manitoba up to 1890 and which it is the alleged purpose of the so-called remedial bill to re-establish. While there were difficulties and disadvantages attending the actual working of this proposal, as was clearly pointed out by the Manitoba commissioners, it is possible that some rearrangement of the terms might have been made that would have avoided these difficulties. But it did not appear to be in the power of the Dominion commissioners to make any such rearrangement except in minor particulars, while the Manitoba commissioners were prevented from accepting the principle of separate schools in any form by the mandate which they had received at the late elections. Although unable to accept the principle of separate schools, which was the central point of the Dominion commissioners offer, in their counter proposal they cleared themselves completely from any charge of intolerance towards the religious views of the minority by offering to permit the teaching of Roman Catholic doctrine in schools in Roman Catholic communities, or where a portion of the children were Roman Catholics, at the option of the trustees. In further proof that they had no ill feeling towards the Roman Catholic minority, in their argument on the proposal of the Dominion commissioners they said as to text books: "It will be impossible to provide by statute that the text books should be satisfactory to the Roman Catholic minority; but we have no doubt that if other points could be agreed upon an arrangement could be arrived at on the text book question which would be mutually satisfactory. We regard this part of the difficulty as comparatively easy of adjustment." Continuing they said: "We would have no objection to the Catholic people being represented on the advisory board, and the board of examiners. In point of fact his grace the late archbishop was offered a seat on the advisory board." The demand for a separate normal school, they absolutely refused and the Dominion commissioners replied that they did not insist upon separate normal schools. The Dominion commissioners demanded 1. Separate schools. 2. Text books that would not be offensive. 3. Catholic representation on the advisory and examining boards. 4. Separate normal schools. Of these demands the fourth was withdrawn, the second and third were practically conceded, and a reasonable substitute offered for the first. A conference that came so nearly reaching a settlement on a question which has hitherto been supposed to be impossible of solution, cannot be considered to have been useless. It showed that there was a conciliatory spirit on both sides, even when the Manitoba commissioners had the express declaration of the province against separate schools behind them, and the Dominion commissioners had a substantial parliamentary majority behind them. That it was possible to come so near a settlement under such adverse circumstances shows very clearly that had a like attempt been made a year ago, before passions on both sides had been inflamed and the leaders forced into a position which made compromise impossible, it would have been successful, and the school question would have been settled on fairer terms to both sides, certainly than are contained in the remedial bill. It should not be forgotten that a proposal of that nature was made a year ago—when in all probability it would have been effective—by an individual of the name of Laurier, who for making the suggestion has since been accused of being everything contemptible and dastardly, by the very men who laid down the propositions to be submitted to the conference, and who would have been pleased beyond measure if it had been successful.

While the conference showed that there is every possibility of a satisfactory settlement of the so-called school difficulty—that both parties desire a settlement and are willing to make substantial concessions—the fact that it was not fully and finally successful must also be taken to prove that bluff and bluster are not effective weapons in these days in Canada, as the resurrected "war horse of Cumberland" and his friends are finding out to their cost. To everyone belongs the right to advise and persuade, but none are given the right to dictate.

THE DEBATE.

In view of the charge of obstruction of the remedial bill made against the liberals the following passage from the report of the proceedings of April 1st, may be of interest. After midnight most of the discussion emanated from the ministerial side of the house.

At 2 o'clock the discussion on clause one was resumed by Mr. Mills.

At 3 o'clock clause one was declared carried, after Mr. Mills had reiterated that parliament was usurping the function of the province in creating a Catholic school board, as that was not a right or privilege.

Mr. Weldon agreed with him, while Hon. Messrs. Daly, Ives and Oumet differed.

Clause two passed without discussion, but the French members objected to clause three, because it gave power to the local government to make rules and regulations for the administration of separate schools, a provision which they contended did not agree with other clauses of the bill.

Mr. Oumet argued that the clause was necessary to secure the legality of the bill and was insisted upon by Mr. Ewart, who could be depended upon to have the interests of the minority at heart.

Mr. Larivière moved, seconded by Mr. McIsaac, that sub-section 2 be struck out.

Mr. Daly said the clause insured that the proposed Catholic board would not have greater power than the old board had prior to 1890. The amendment was lost and the clause then carried.

SOUTH AFRICA.

A Cape Town despatch, of March 28th, says that Frederick Selous, of Matabeleland, whose ranch was raided by Matabeles, and himself compelled to take refuge in Bulawayo, went out from that place on the 27th, with a force of volunteers, met and defeated a force of the raiders and re-captured his cattle. Five troopers were killed in the engagement. The whites throughout the Matabele country have gathered in temporary forts. One of these contains one thousand and people, mostly women and children with a very small stock of provisions. Communication is still open with Bulawayo, but may be closed at any time and traveling is dangerous in all parts of the country. Many murders by Matabeles are reported. A large number of native police who had been enlisted by the chartered company have joined the insurrection, or indeed possibly incited it. One posse of them murdered their inspector, Bulawayo, Salisbury and other posts are being put in a state of defence and men are being armed as fast as arms can be procured. But it appears that arms are scarce, owing to the large quantity that were smuggled into the Transvaal republic in anticipation of Jameson's raid. Lobengula's son has returned to Matabele land to head the insurrection. On the 26th, Capt. Speckley met and repulsed a large body of Matabeles and inflicted heavy losses on them. He had only one man wounded. The Boers of the Transvaal are also arming and evidently preparing for a fight. A Cape Town despatch of the 21st, says that the situation is not improving. All the British can do is to hold their ground until supplies of arms and reinforcements arrive, and in many cases where small parties are isolated, it is feared they will not be able to do that, and that many of them will be lost before help can reach them. Communication with Bulawayo was still open. Although the uprising is unfortunate and the loss of life necessarily resulting to be regretted, there is no doubt that when it is over the question of British supremacy in South Africa will be definitely settled. No better reason for such a settlement could be given than the present uprising. If the Boers, as well as the Matabele, are anxious to try conclusions, this would seem to be a most opportune time.

Ottawa despatch of March 29: The supplementary estimates for the current fiscal year will be presented to-morrow. There is no doubt about their passing, as the money is really needed for expenditure already incurred. The main and supplementary estimates for the next fiscal year, however, are not likely to pass.

Calgary Tribune: The following transfers have been made in the mounted police: Insp. White-Fraser, from Maple Creek to Regina; Insp. Routledge, from Maple Creek, to Fort Saskatchewan; Insp. Howard to Edmonton; Insp. Smyrn, Edmonton, to Maple Creek; Insp. Scarth, Regina, to Maple Creek.

Macleod Gazette, April 3rd: Mr. Metzler, of the Dry Forks of the Kootenai, was in town last week. He brought with him two wild geese which he disposed of to the butcher, and which he shot on the Kootenai a day or two previously.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION.

The text of the propositions submitted on both sides and the rejoinders thereto at the conference on the Manitoba school question are published in the Winnipeg papers. The proposition of the Dominion commissioners is as follows:

Legislation shall be passed at the present session of the Manitoba legislature to provide that in towns and villages where there are resident, say, twenty-five Roman Catholic children of school age, and in cities where there are, say, fifty of such children, the board of trustees shall arrange that such children shall have a school house or school room for their own use, where they may be taught by a Roman Catholic teacher, and Roman Catholic parents, or guardians, say, ten in number, may appeal to the department of education from any decision or neglect of the board in respect of its duty under this clause, and the board shall observe and carry out all decisions and directions of the department on any such appeal.

Provision shall be made by this legislation that schools wherein the majority of children are Catholics shall be exempted from the requirements of the regulations as to the religious exercises.

That text books be permitted in Catholic schools such as will not offend the religious views of the minority, and which from an educational standpoint shall be satisfactory to the advisory board.

Catholics to have representation on the advisory board.

Catholics to have representation on the board of examiners appointed to examine teachers for certificates.

It is also claimed that Catholics should have assistance in the maintenance of Normal schools for the education of their teachers.

The existing system of permits to non-qualified teachers in Catholic schools to be continued for, say, two years, to enable them to qualify, and then to be entirely discontinued.

In all other respects the schools at which Catholics attend to be public schools and subject to every provision of the education acts for the time being in force in Manitoba.

A written agreement having been arrived at, and the necessary legislation passed, the remedial bill now before parliament is to be withdrawn, and any rights and privileges which might be claimed by the minority in view of the decision of the judicial committee of the privy council shall during the due observance of such agreement remain in abeyance and be not further insisted upon.

To this the Manitoba commissioners replied at great length pointing out the difficulties in the way of adopting the proposition and concluding by submitting the following counter propositions:

Our proposition is in the form of an alternative:

First—Should it be accepted as a satisfactory measure of relief to the minority, and as removing their grievances: Whereby offer to completely secularize the public school system, eliminating religious exercises and teaching of every kind during school hours. We desire to be understood in connection with this proposition that it is made as a compromise, and not as embodying the policy which the government and legislature of the province are themselves desirous of pursuing. We are willing, however, to adopt such a measure in order to attain a settlement of the dispute.

Second—In the alternative we offer to repeal the present provision of the school act relating to religious exercises, and to enact in substance the following:

"No religious exercises or teaching to take place in any public school, except as provided in the act. Such exercises and teaching, when held, between half past three and four o'clock in the afternoon."

"If authorized by resolution of the trustees, such resolution to be assented to by a majority, religious exercises and teaching to be held in any public school between 3:30 and four o'clock in the afternoon. Such exercises and teaching to be conducted by any Christian clergyman, whose charge includes any portion of the school district, or by any person satisfactory to a majority of the trustees who may be authorized by said clergyman to act in his stead, the trustees to allot the period fixed for religious exercises or teaching for the different days of the week to the representatives of the different religious denominations to which the pupils may belong in such a way as to proportion the time allotted as nearly as possible to the number of pupils in the school of the respective denominations. Two or more denominations to have the privilege of uniting for the purpose of such religious exercises. If no duly authorized representative of any denominations attend, the regular school work to be carried on until 4 o'clock."

"No pupil to be permitted to be present at such religious exercises or teaching, if the parents shall object. In such case the pupil to be dismissed at 3:30."

"Where the school room accommodation at the disposal of the trustees permit, instead of allotting different days of the week to different denominations, the trustees to direct that the pupils shall be separated and placed in different rooms for the purpose of religious exercises, as may be convenient."

The Dominion commissioners replied at great length to the criticism of their offer by the Manitoba commissioners. The only allusion they made to the counter proposal by Manitoba was the following:

"Neither of the propositions which you make would, as it appears to us, remove the sense of unjust treatment, existing amongst the minority, nor would they possess the elements of permanency and freedom from friction in administration which are certainly necessary for a final and peaceable solution of existing difficulties."

The final reply of Manitoba contains the following clauses:

Your proposition aims at the legal recognition by the legislature of Manitoba of the right to the Roman Catholic people to separate schools for school purposes. Our proposition aims at removing every practical objection to the present system without giving a legal right to separate. We understand that by order-in-council your authority is limited to making a settlement satisfactory to the minority, and that as a matter of fact the minority will accept nothing short of statutory recognition of the right of separation. We regard ourselves as precluded by our declaration of policy preceding our last election from assenting to such statutory recognition. While joining with you in the earnest desire to reach a settlement, we are unable to suggest any other of reconciling these two propositions.

We cannot but express our regret and disappointment at the failure of our negotiations. We assumed when a conference was asked for by the federal government, with full knowledge of the fact that we were clearly stopped by the terms of the order-in-council of Dec. 20th, 1895, from assenting to the re-establishment of separate schools in any form, that it was with the object of securing substantial modifications, which while falling short of the principle of separation would remove every alleged reason for Roman Catholic opposition to the use of the public schools. We think that the proposition which we have made would, if adopted, remove every such reason, and it is therefore such a proposition we believed you had come prepared to accept. Its non-acceptance apparently is due to the determination of the minority to insist upon the most extreme, and in our opinion, unsound view of their legal rights.

It also appears that any settlement between the government of the Dominion and that of Manitoba must, by the very terms of our instructions, be subject to the sanction of a third party, and while all the members of both governments might approve of our proposition, or any other submitted, as containing everything that in reason and in equity, ought to be conceded, nevertheless that approval would be worthless without the sanction of the representatives of the minority.

In a word, we are absolutely debarred from conceding a system of Roman Catholic and state aided separate schools while the representatives of the minority, and, as a consequence the federal government, will accept nothing less.

In conclusion we have the honor to state that notwithstanding the failure of the present negotiations, the government of the province will always be prepared to receive and discuss any suggestion which may be made with a view to removing any inequalities that may be shown to exist in the present law.

BEAVER LAKE (EAST).

Mr. Sterling, Presbyterian missionary, preached his farewell sermon on Sunday, March 29th, and left for Winnipeg, via Edmonton, the next day. It is largely owing to Mr. Sterling's energy and good management that we now have a church to worship in and his labors won't be forgotten. He will continue his studies at Manitoba college.

I mentioned a short time since that a petition in favor of straightening the old trail around this side of the lake had been largely signed by the settlers. Lately a contra petition was circulated. May the right succeed!

Malcolm MacCallum paid a visit to Edmonton this week. He had as passengers, Miss McAllister and Mrs. J. B. Steele. There is some sleighing on this side yet, but further west he found almost none.

A MEETING in furtherance of provincial autonomy was held at Leduc recently. It was addressed by R. W. Telford, J. M. Douglas and others, and most of those present signed the petition.

THE distribution of seed grain has been going on briskly since Monday, but a large number of settlers in different parts of the district, who applied for seed, find that their applications have in some way gone astray and they come to town only to be disappointed.

M. FLETCHER, of Portage, Manitoba, attempted to drown himself recently by breaking the ice in a ditch and lying down in the water. He was a school teacher by profession and is doubtless the same person who taught the Edmonton school some three or four years ago.

THE Vancouver World says that Mr. McIntosh, for a long time telegraph operator at Soda Creek, B. C., has started for Edmonton, and will from there go into the interior about 700 miles to a trading post owned by P. D. McVey. Mr. McIntosh goes up in connection setting up the business for Mr. Dunlop.

ATTENDANCE at the public school is increasing: Total number on roll for quarter ending March 31, 176. Average attendance 124.43. The number on the roll in each department is, principal 29, 1st assistant 36, 2nd assistant 47, junior 64. During the preceding quarter the total on the roll was 167 and the average attendance 112.07.

A MEETING of the North Star bicycle club will be held on C. M. Woodworth's office on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. It is proposed to consider the question of increasing the membership of the club from the present limit of twelve. The officers of the club are J. D. McBride, president; C. M. Woodworth, 1st vice-president; W. Clark, secretary; J. G. Finkler, captain; G. Corrigan, bugler. The uniform selected is navy blue knickerbockers, black hose, white sweater and navy blue cap.

THE annual meeting of the mission of St. Albert was held on Tuesday and Wednesday, Bishop Grandin presiding. Rev. Fathers Lestang, Lacombe and Merer were present. A large amount of business was transacted. Owing to the ill health of Rev. Father Leduc, he was relieved from his duties as superior of the mission and Rev. Father Merer was appointed superior and parish priest of St. Albert. Rev. Father Leduc, of Ojima lake, has been appointed manager of the new half breed colony at Egg lake, with Rev. Father St. Germain, of St. Boniface, his assistant.

A GENERAL meeting of the settlers, of Stony Plain, was held at the post office on Saturday, April 4th, for the purpose of forming a conservative association. After the meeting was organized, Mr. D. L. McKinlay suggested that to take any definite action at present was premature. The only request this section of the country ever made of the government was simply to get a loan of seed grain. The first communication lead to the belief that it was all right, but present communications indicated that they are going to back out of the contract, as two mails had come without any intelligence from the police commissioner at Calgary to whom the interior department referred the memorial. In the event of the settlers being fooled he thought it would take an excellent telescope to find a single conservative in this community. This suggestion was approved of unanimously and the meeting dispersed till further notice.

J. R. COSTIGAN has an open letter addressed to F. S. SIMMONS, in the last issue of the Calgary Tribune. Mr. Costigan is president of the Haultain convention of last year, and Mr. Simmons of the Cochrane convention. The C. P. R. gives one car free, and the people pay for the other. In raising the money for the purpose: "A few kind hearted people took the matter in hand and drove from farm to farm, so that the donors were spared the trouble of delivery. There were gathered over 700 bushels of wheat, about 300 of other grain, and 30 sacks of flour, besides $35 worth of goods. The movement was not a denominational one, people of the different churches giving liberally. The statement is as follows: Treherns—Wheat 37 bags, oats and barley 37 bags, flour 14 bags, cash $15.50. Rathwell—Grain 20 bags, possibly more. Holland—Wheat 102 bushels, other grain 57 sacks, flour 22 sacks, meat three sacks, cash $17. Cypress—Wheat 309 bushels, other grain 120 bushels, goods $10. Glenboro and Stockton—Wheat 276 bushels, cash $8, parcel of clothing.

FRANK FRANK: Two car loads of contributions made for the Moravians of the Brethren settlement, north-east of Edmonton are on their way to their destination, having been collected in the vicinity of Treherne, Rathwell, Holland, Cypress, Glenboro and Stockton. The C. P. R. gives one car free, and the people pay for the other. In raising the money for the purpose: "A few kind hearted people took the matter in hand and drove from farm to farm, so that the donors were spared the trouble of delivery. GENERAL NEWS. Dating from April 2nd, all lines of railway in the U. S. which have been working as part of the Grand Trunk railway system became associated under the management and under the title of the Grand Trunk railway system. The system covers 4,500 miles. A. de Martigny, for nineteen years cashier of the Jacques Cartier bank in Montreal, has resigned to accept the liberal candidature in the county of Beauharnois against deputy minister Bergeron. The banking business must be bad if it does not pay better than politics. Liens. Col. Amyot, M. P., for Belleschasse, Quebec, was found dead in bed on the morning of Monday, March 30th. Apoplexy is said to have been the immediate cause of death. Col. Amyot commanded the 9th battalion, Quebec volunteers, at Lary in 1885. He was a conservative, bolted from his party on the Riel question. He returned, however.

SCHOOL MEETING.

The regular monthly meeting of the Edmonton school board was held on Friday evening in the secretary's office.

Communications were received from K. V. McKenzie, principal of the school, calling attention to the crowded condition of the primary department and the necessity for a re-arrangement of the seats, and from Messrs. Edmonston & Flater, architects, calling attention to the danger of injury to the foundation by water from the down pipes from the roof.

McCauley-Bellamy. That Mr. McKenzie be asked to superintend the re-arrangement of the seats in the two junior departments, in order to relieve the present over-crowding.

Bellamy-McCauley. That the caretaker be instructed to provide wooden spouts to carry the water from the down spouts away from the foundation.

The following accounts were passed: K. W. Mackenzie, salary for month, $100.00; G. J. Welbourn, " " " 66.66; Miss Taylor, " " " 50.00; Miss Rogers, " " " 50.00; P. Umbach, caretaker, 16.00; St. Geo. Jellett, secretary, 30.15; H. Goodridge, coal, 20.35; Jacques Cartier bank, lumber, 14.40; P. Umbach, building sidewalk, 1.00; E. Acton, water, 2.00.

A by-law was passed to raise $500 for three months to meet current expenses.

McBride-Bellamy. That the town council be requested to build a six foot sidewalk, from Jasper avenue along McDougall street to College avenue west to First street on the H. B. reserve.
